A MESSAGE FROM THE CEO

Dear DDF Supporters,

Debbie's Dream Foundation: Curing Stomach Cancer (DDF) was founded in 2009 when our late founder, Debbie Zelman, realized there had not been a new treatment for gastric cancer for over 30 years. This grim statistic and her diagnosis of stage IV incurable stomach cancer fueled her passion to start this organization and make it part of our mission to fund research. Since 2014, DDF has partnered with the American Association for Cancer Research to commit $1.45 million to gastric cancer research to date. We took a brief break during the pandemic, but in 2022, we recommitted an additional $250,000 to research because we know that innovation and exploration are the only ways to improve the mortality rate, survivorship, and ultimately find a cure for this disease. If there is anything DDF understands clearly, it is this—research is the way.

In addition to funding research grants, we also advocate for stomach cancer's inclusion in the Department of Defense's Peer Reviewed Cancer Research Program since 2013. Through our annual Stomach Cancer Capitol Hill Advocacy Day, we continue to see increases in the federal budget that can help lead to breakthroughs in clinical trials, surgical and non-surgical options, early detection, and more. In 2022, we advocated on the Hill with more than 130 patient and caregiver advocates from 31 states. We shared real stories with lawmakers that helped contribute to the more than $24 million allocated to gastric cancer research since 2015.

Even though funding research is a critical part of our mission, we always maintain sight of other ways to impact our patient community through our programs and new initiatives. In 2022, our Health Equity Program expanded to include in-person workshops and events with key community partners like the YMCA and The United Way, which serve minority populations disproportionately affected by this disease. We work with our partners to educate communities of color about statistics and social determinants that contribute to inequalities in healthcare. We share information about clinical trials and educational resources that otherwise would not reach these populations. In addition, we continue to host our signature programs, including educational webinars and symposia, and help match a diverse community of patients and caregivers with peer mentors to help them know that they are not alone.

DDF could not do this without the continued support of our donors, industry partners, Board of Directors, staff, volunteers, and the resiliency of those who make up the stomach cancer community. Together we are changing the landscape of this disease so that others can have a fighting chance. Thank you for believing in the DREAM!

With the sincerest appreciation,

Andrea Eidelman, Esq.

In 2022, Debbie's Dream Foundation announced a $250,000 recommitment to funding stomach cancer research.

PROGRAMS OVERVIEW

Our Patient Resource Education Program offers many free stomach cancer support services to patients, families, and caregivers. When a patient is diagnosed, they, their families, and their caregiver can apply to request a peer mentor. Through our mentor-matching platform, patients can better understand their diagnosis, staging, treatment options, clinical trials, side effects, and disease management. Mentors share their stories, tips, advice, and concerns with others, so they feel supported along their journey.

DDF also hosts various online education programs, including monthly stomach cancer support groups, webinars, and symposia topics covering the continuum of cancer treatments. All programs are free for patients, families, caregivers, the general public, and health care professionals. Educational programs are recorded and archived in the Lecture Library section of the DDF website as well as on our YouTube channel.

2022 PROGRAMS & INITIATIVES

PATIENT RESOURCE EDUCATION PROGRAM

MONTHLY STOMACH CANCER SUPPORT GROUPS

We partnered with Memorial Cancer Institute (MCI) to bring patients and caregivers virtual monthly stomach cancer support groups. The support groups are open to patients, their families, and caregivers, where topics vary by month and group. Support groups in 2022 were held on the first Thursday of every month via Zoom. MCI's Dr. Jessica Ketterer, Ph.D., led each monthly group, helping patients and caregivers find solutions and feel supported throughout their journey.

CANCERCARE HELPLINE & COPING CIRCLE

We continued our partnership with CancerCare to provide a helpline staff of skilled oncology social workers with specific expertise on issues affecting stomach cancer patients and their families. The helpline aims to alleviate distress and help patients obtain the best possible outcomes from their treatment. In addition, we hosted a workshop in partnership with CancerCare on December 14, 2023, to help stomach cancer patients and caregivers learn techniques and information to help them cope with the stomach cancer journey around the holidays.

MENTOR MATCHING PROGRAM

Our Patient Resource Education Program offers peer-to-peer mentorship for patients, caregivers, and families to help them navigate their journey. Our state-of-the-art digital platform uses smart-matching algorithms to pair patients and families with moral support and help build community. This program continues to thrive as a highly sought out resource for those who want to give back and those who need support.

2022 PROGRAMS & INITIATIVES

2022 MIND, BODY, SPIRIT FACEBOOK LIVE SERIES

DDF's Mind, Body, Spirit Facebook LIVE Series aims to address the mental and emotional impact of cancer on the stomach cancer community. We partner with psychologists and practitioners of alternative therapies to educate the stomach cancer community on various options as they navigate their journeys. Our 2022 topics included trauma and burnout coping techniques, meditation, acupuncture, and a mental health and self-care awareness workshop.

HEALTH EQUITY PROGRAM

In 2022 we partnered with the United Way of Broward County and the YMCA of South Florida to host an in-person Stomach Cancer Awareness Workshop in Miami-Dade and Broward counties to help educate the Black, Indigenous, and People of Color (BIPOC) communities that are disproportionately affected by gastric cancer. We shared critical information, staggering statistics, and critical resources available to the BIPOC population. Through our Health Equity Program, we aim to provide solutions that help make healthcare as inclusive and equal as possible in the landscape of stomach cancer.

STOMACH CANCER EDUCATIONAL WEBINARS

Each year, we invite experts in the field of GI oncology to host webinars to help educate the stomach cancer community on the latest topics, including treatment options, clinical trials, and more!

Our 2022 Stomach Cancer Educational Webinar Series got started with a presentation in February featuring Dr. Brian D. Badgewell of MD Anderson Cancer Center, sharing his expert opinion on whether curing stage IV stomach cancer is possible. In March, Dr. Zev Wainberg of UCLA Medical Center presented on Immunotherapy and Targeted Therapies for Gastric Cancer Patients. We partnered with experts at Rutgers Cancer Institute of New Jersey, including Drs. David August, Haejin In, Miral Grandhi, Patrick Boland, and oncology dietician Kristin Waldron, to share information about the latest in gastric cancer research in April. In June, Dr. Michael Choti of Banner MD Anderson Cancer Institute presented on Surgical Updates for Gastric Cancer Patients, and in August, we partnered with the Children's Bereavement Center for a webinar on Helping Children and Families Cope with Grief.

In the Fall, we hosted a September webinar on Clinical Trials Updates for Gastric Cancer Patients featuring Drs. David Ilson of Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center, Haejin In of Rutgers Cancer Center of New Jersey, and industry partner MassiveBio. We brought back the experts at Rutgers for part two of the latest in gastric cancer research, this time featuring presentations from Drs. David August, Mariam Eskander, Lyudmya Berim, and Matthew Deek. In November, we hosted "Optimizing Outcomes Following A Gastrectomy" featuring Dr. Omar Llaguna, Surgical Oncologist at Memorial Healthcare Systems.

To close out the year, we hosted a presentation in December titled "A Candid Conversation About Patient and Caregiver Advocacy," featuring authors Dr. John and Liza Marshall. Dr. John Marshall, a GI oncologist, and his wife, Liza Marshall, a breast cancer survivor, shared unique insights based on their bestselling book "Off Our Chests: A Candid Tour Through the World of Cancer." This interview not only explored how the Marshalls navigated Liza's breast cancer journey with unique knowledge from John's experience as a GI oncologist, but also how cancers are disproportionately funded and, therefore, have starkly different treatment options and outcomes.

STOMACH CANCER EDUCATIONAL SYMPOSIA

In 2022, we partnered with top organizations and experts in the US and abroad to host hybrid in-person and virtual stomach cancer educational symposia. Our symposia contain in-depth information on important topics that patients and families can understand and gain further insights through panel discussions and Q&A sessions.

2022 DDF-KCA INTERNATIONAL GASTRIC CANCER EDUCATIONAL SYMPOSIUM

We partnered with the Korean Cancer Association (KCA) for a second year in a row to host the 2022 DDF-KCA International Gastric Cancer Educational Symposium on Thursday, June 17, 2022, in Seoul, Korea. Dr. Han-Kwang Yang, Director and Professor of Surgery at the Seoul National University Hospital in Seoul, Korea, and Chairman of the Board of Directors for KCA, led the symposium as Chair. The symposium was broadcast virtually to 1,158 participants from 41 countries, beating its previous record of 935 virtual attendees in 2021. Participants tuned in to presentations by medical experts from Korea, China, Japan, Europe, and the United States to highlight surgical and non-surgical treatment options for early and late-stage gastric cancer patients in each represented region.

2022 DDF & MIAMI CANCER INSTITUTE VIRTUAL STOMACH CANCER EDUCATIONAL SYMPOSIUM

DDF collaborated with the Miami Cancer Institute (MCI) of Baptist Health South Florida to host a Gastroesophageal Cancer Educational Symposium on Saturday, August 27, 2022, at MCI in Miami, Florida. The program was led by Dr. Antonio Ucar, Medical Oncologist at MCI, and featured presentations on survivorship and patient panel discussions focusing on treatment and support for various stages of stomach cancer.

VIRTUAL STOMACH CANCER EDUCATIONAL SYMPOSIUM

Debbie's Dream Foundation: Curing Stomach Cancer (DDF) hosted its Virtual Stomach Cancer Educational Symposium on Wednesday, February 9, 2022. The program featured healthcare professionals and researchers sharing the latest gastric and esophageal cancer research information. It was led by Dr. Jeremy Davis, Surgeon-in-Chief at the National Institutes of Health Clinical Center (NIH), and featured presentations by experts at the NIH.

2022 NUTRITION PROGRAM

Patients and their families often reach out to DDF with questions about nutrition and how to eat through their diagnosis, especially through the holidays. We partnered with nutrition and culinary experts to provide cooking videos and recipes modified for gastric cancer patients. View our cooking videos, recipes, and more at www.DebbiesDream.org/resources/nutrition/.

COOKING DEMONSTRATIONS & RECIPES FOR STOMACH CANCER PATIENTS

In 2022, we continued our Facebook LIVE cooking demo series featuring seasonal Meals for Stomach Cancer Patients prepared by Emmy-nominated Chef Nathan Lyon. Chef Nathan was joined by Clinical Oncology Dietician Mary-Eve Brown of Johns Hopkins to answer commonly asked questions and bring stomach cancer patients various deliciously modified meals they could enjoy throughout the seasons.

ADVOCACY

DDF hosted the 10th Annual Virtual Stomach Cancer Capitol Hill Advocacy Day virtually on February 7 and 8. The annual meetings, typically held in person on Capitol Hill in Washington, D.C., presented an opportunity for nearly 120 stomach cancer patients, family members, and caregivers from 31 states to meet virtually with Congress members and share their personal stories and the latest facts and statistics about stomach cancer. These consistent efforts help ensure that stomach cancer remains eligible for funding through the Department of Defense's Peer-Reviewed Cancer Research Program.

DREAM MAKERS MIRACLE FUND

In 2022, DDF successfully granted the wishes of four families through the 2022 Dream Makers Miracle Fund. Through this initiative, DDF aims to spread joy by providing bucket-list-inspired experiences to patients and families affected by stomach cancer. The 2022 recipients were selected based on specific criteria of having been directly affected by stomach cancer as a patient or caregiver and having financial needs.

This year, Patty Fitzgerald and her family took a dream trip to Jersey Shore to celebrate life and create lasting memories for her children. Rachel Orth and her family were sent to Yosemite National Park as part of a longtime wish for adventure and exploring nature. Jessica Alcantar and her family vacationed in sunny Miami, Florida, as a longtime dream of her late mother, Carmen Muro, who passed away in 2020 from stomach cancer. In addition, stomach cancer survivor Lissette McKee had her dreams come true as she and her husband swam with dolphins in the Florida Keys.

DDF EVENTS

In 2022, DDF continued to host multiple fundraising events throughout the country thanks to the wonderful advocates, partners, and sponsors who continue to support our mission.

Our advocacy efforts extend beyond the nation's capital through our active participation in groups such as One Voice Against Cancer, The Deadliest Cancers Coalition, Patient Equal Access Coalition, and State Patient Access Coalition. In addition, we help raise awareness about stomach cancer through our annual campaign, where we encourage supporters to solicit their local governments to have each state declare the month of November as "Curing Stomach Cancer Month."

In 2022, Arizona, Florida, Massachusetts, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, and Utah were submitted to make the declaration.
